"The mysteries come to the Mystic"

If your eyes touch this page with hunger as well as recognition, is it likely that you are one of the courageous "mystics" whose eyes are open to that which has been hidden until now: That which is deep within you, that which makes you who you truly are. The time of great awakening to (W)holeness is washing around the globe. If you are reading this page, you have heard the call to participate as a "Torch Bearer."

Around the globe spiritual gatherings are occurring in greater and greater numbers. There is a wave of hunger to BE LIFE in the eternal now, to be awake in one's daily living, and to awaken as ONE-self, as never before.

What, exactly, is a "mystic?"

A "mystic" is a person whose eyes are open to the mysteries which transcend ordinary human knowledge. The purpose of seeing fully is, paradoxically, direct union with soul, as Soul: Oneness. The mystic is a person who answers the call to embody wisdom, not just "think about it."

As a mystic you are a "magio"(greek), a practitioner of the hidden wisdoms, a magician or magi. Precious, indeed, are the persons in whom these mysteries become known and embodied. Ultimately, the very Be-ing of a mystic becomes a portal into the exuberance of LIFE being LIFE consciously. The mystic's choice to be Conscious LIFE makes them a beacon of the Light for all those whom they encounter.

A "school" is a cluster of experiences designed to facilitate transformation, learning and awakening. In a "mystery school," these particular clusters of experiences are designed for the explicit purpose to reveal the mysteries of Be-ing Truth. Through these mysteries, the eyes of the student are opened to reality: The reality that the eyes of the Mystic are the "I AM" of All-that-IS, seeing itself, knowing itself, being itself.

In the case of the Wisdom Grace Mystery "School", the manner and type of experience-clusters are founded upon an alchemical premise, a profound mystery which is explored through all the various teachings and "home-play" invitations. Those who apply to participate in these experience-clusters are students of "the mystery of them selves," and explore the potency of the "Wisdom Grace Mystery", itself.

The learning experiences are grounded in and founded upon The Wisdom WAY™; a structured learning experience designed to melt away as the student becomes grounded within their own heart of durable worth and alchemical presence. The Wisdom WAY™ path opens the student's heart and establishes a platform from which they know their place in the Universe, as an eternal, radiant point of infinity: the consummate mystery.

However, the confusion that arises is often in the form of the question: "How?" How does one ripen in this process? How does one awaken to and consciously embody the mystery of (W)holeness? For after all, the point of all the great studies of the mysteries of Be-ing is (W)holeness. To see oneself as "God" sees, to hear oneself as "God" hears, to know oneself as "God" knows itself; all of these and more are the practices of the Mystic.

Mere intellectual pursuit of these puzzles, without the "Hands & Feet" of embracing and living the talk (applied embodiment) offers little in the way of actual transformation. What sets the Wisdom-Grace Mystery "School" apart is the essential element of practical application and immediate access for each student into their own unique path of wisdom. The structure of the Mystery "School" extends to you, the opportunity to learn and implement the "How?" of (W)holeness.

The Two symbols of this cluster of experiences (a "school") are the Owl and the Turtle. Each symbol points to elements of the ripening process facilitated by the Wisdom WAY™. When alchemically bonded, owl and turtle presence offer the mystery of "Wisdom-Grace" to self-declared Mystics.

Wisdom--the capacity to discern the essential elements and thus, re-cognize (W)holeness. This is the foundational focus of the WG Mystery experience. The Owl, often referred to as "Silent Wisdom," has an aura of ancient mystery about it. The Owl is a symbol of the feminine, the moon, and night. Often associated with healing and higher wisdoms, the owl offers potent discernment to those who study the "owl presence." Even in the darkest of night, the Owl can see and hear with great acuity. Those gifted with Owl presence are able to clearly see and hear what has been hidden in the soul and in the outer life of all that IS.

The Owl presence moves silently into each moment with an authority of its own, sorting and separating subtle elements from one another for the purpose of transformation. The Owl essence empowers the apprentice with the discernment to know truth from distortion. So, too the student of the wisdom offered by Owl moves into each moment in the silence of true presence, transforming all by its embodied truth.

The Turtle, more ancient than any other vertebrate animal, is different from the tortoise, which is land bound. Turtles are both of the heavens and the earth and, like the owl, are also associated with the Divine Feminine.

At times, the Turtle has been known as "the keeper of the doors" or portals of Wisdom. While the shell is a symbol of the heavenly mysteries, the square underside is a symbol of the earth's grace and presence. Thus, the Turtle energy is that which allows the mystic to unite heaven and earth in their own life. With great longevity, the Turtle ripens into its fullness in its own time and pace. So too, does the mystic move at their own divine pace without comparison or justification for its ripening and ascension.

Often associated with long life and grounded-ness, the Turtle moves slowly and steadily knowing it has all the time in the world to come to the mystery of itself. The Turtle is of the primal essence of Be-ing, which flows in its own natural rhythms. Those gifted with the Turtle presence, are able to abide in the moment, being Who they are in complete (W)holeness of each moment. Just as the Turtle can not separate itself from its "home" (shell) neither can we separate ourselves from Who we are. This is Grace in the act of Be-ing.

Alchemically combining Owl (wisdom) and Turtle (grace), the student is guided to a profound knowing of Who they truly are: The embodied presence of LIGHT BE-ing. To be a sage or shaman, to be consciously Who you are, is to be a mystic of the highest order: The Divine Human, BEING LIFE by complete free-will choice.

Through the processes offered at the Wisdom Grace Mystery "School", each student ripens into their capacity to authentically meet themselves and RE-cognize their own (W)holeness.

Put another way, the Wisdom Grace Mystery School offers you, the student an opportunity to answer the most profound and urgent question of our time: "Who am I?"

$$\Sigma_{\infty 13}$$

Across the ages, this question has been posed to students of the great mysteries, for hidden before one's own eyes is the "I" waiting to be known and freed from its confusion.

Sigma (Σ) signifies the unification of disparate sets into a (W)hole. This mystery symbol might suggest that we are in need of this "unification" and yet this is paradoxically not true. We are already (W)hole. However the "felt" experience of our daily lives is not yet one of (W)holeness but one of brokenness; of questing for what will "fix" or complete our sense of self.

Once again, however, the point must be made. The apprentice of the question, "Who am I?" can not awaken through intellect alone. And without our minds, we can not digest deeply enough to move into full embodiment of Truth. Yes, this is a paradox: we can not "think" our way to (W)holeness and yet, without full participation in the ripening of one's awareness, the "space-place" of SIGMA (Σ) will elude the student. All aspects (mind, heart, body, soul) are necessary for authentic realization of our unification.

Oriented in The Wisdom WAY™ process, which presumes (W)holeness, each student shifts their point of power from the "quest" to the choice to simply Be. What is particularly unusual in the Wisdom Grace Mystery program is the emphasis on the "How to's" of this shift. The mysteries are just that-- mysteries of all the ages--these are not new. The point of a "mystery school" is not the invention of "new mysteries" but the revelation, realization, and actual embodiment in particular of "I AM;" the great mystery of the ages.

What many find missing in their quest to achieve understanding of this great mystery are the "Hands and Feet" steps to this intimate encounter. The Wisdom Grace Mystery "School" is an integrative model which weaves all that the students bring to the process with the transformative process of "meeting oneself" by choice in a moment-by-moment experiential encounter. This is done through the Wisdom Grace Mystery itself.

Each student's needs and choices are paramount in the design of how they choose to approach their "play" in the mysteries. Tailored to each student's pace and preferred learning style, while providing a practical depth of exploration into the enigma of being fully conscious and alive, the experience-clusters are potent, pragmatic, and immediate.

The curriculum of the WGM, unveils the skeleton of alchemical transformation and empowers each apprentice to reveal themselves to themselves. This is a way that is based in "do-ability" rather than theoretical explorations. If you are not ready to truly change, then it is best to not enroll into this process, for alchemical change is its primary effect. It is best to be clear when you choose to say "YES" to yourself.

The WGMs has two tracks which are sequential while the contents of each track are open to adjustments. There is a "personal enrichment" track as well as a "certified teachers" track. This, too, is unusual as the "curriculum" is not restrictive but made available in a manner that allows the student to blend with it and bring it into their lives. (see the "curriculum" button below).

Wisdom is the capacity to discern the essential elements, while Grace is the freely given embrace of self-acceptance, without required merit or qualifications. The name of this "school" means to suggest a ripening of your capacity to discern and Be the essence of self, living in unqualified acceptance of Who you are.

The WGM "School" is a series of programs which allow the complete re-awakening of the wisdom of Who you are while paradoxically occurring by grace alone.

Independent of all religions, while fully embracing a living spirituality, the WGM "School" offers a way to come home to your self, now and here. Choose to say "YES" and come to know yourself as the mystic you are.
